

Plot 8

Continue on from plot 7 up the trail, at this point, trees are very patchy. You will pass two sparse stands of Subalpine fir on your left as the trail gently winds upward. Keep an eye out for a large fallen log (~25 feet long and 5" in diameter), it is on the left side of the trail. The log is on the last rise before the trail descends into an outwash basin. Plot 8 is at the apex of this hill, on your right.
